Please find below and/or attached an Office communication concerning this application or proceeding.

Response to Amendment

1. The reply filed on 4/4/2005 is not fully responsive to the prior Office Action because of the following omission(s) or matter(s): Applicant has failed to clearly point out the patentable novelty which he or she thinks the claims present in view of the state of the art disclosed by the references cited or the objections made. Further, they do not show how the amendments avoid such references or objections. See 37 CFR 1.111. Since the above-mentioned reply appears to be bona fide, applicant is given ONE (1) MONTH or THIRTY (30) DAYS from the mailing date of this notice, whichever is longer, within which to supply the omission or correction in order to avoid abandonment. EXTENSIONS OF THIS TIME PERIOD MAY BE GRANTED UNDER 37 CFR 1.136(a).

2. The amendments made to the claims vary in scope and are not consistent with clarification that "the generated HTML page having interrupt instructions originates with respect to the first party" (Page 9, Lines 15-16 of Remarks). The amendment to claim 1 merely states that the page originates in the server serving the first party. The amendment to claim 12 states that the page originates in the first application instance. The amendment to claim 28 states that the page originates in an application session of the first party. The amendment to claim 39 states that an application server has means for originating an HTML document. Since these amendments differ in scope from each other and from "the generated HTML page having interrupt instructions originates with respect to the first party", and no attempt was made to show how these amendments avoid the rejections over Phaal, the reply is not fully responsive.
